I love this site you've created for your boys. This was really great information. I came across it from Isaiah's site. Mary and Matt are great and I'm sure they will be a good resource for you. Consider your family added to my prayer list. I'm looking forward to information on the walk you may have for the boys. I wanted to go to Isaiah's walk but I was tending to my sick baby at the time. God bless you all, Stacey Petersen

Brisan, Parker and Duncan... I know we have not met yet, but we will soon. I wish only the best for you all. I know life can throw you a challenge, but your parents are the best to take on the challenge and will ALWAYS have the support of family and friends. If I can do anything to help just let me know, even if it is just to put a smile on your face... All you have to do is ask Mike.
